Undefeated Blue Devils Meet Fort Pierce 11 Tonite

The Pahokee Blue Devils, still ndefeated at the halfway mark of their 1946 schedule, tangle with the Golden Eagles of Fort Pierce Fort Pierce tonight. Unquestionably this is going to be a tough game. For the past several consecutive years the Eagles have succeeded in defeating Pahokee even in those years when the Blue Devils had a better rating than the St. Lucie County eleven. The Eagles don't have the team they had last year, nevertheless, they have grown stronger as the on advanced and showed their season advanced and showed their increasing strength last week in their decisive victory over Ponce de Leon. A Jackson contractor states that he has, time after time, refused to build residences for veterans because he had a conscience that would not let him gyp the GIs and under present conditions he could not possibly build them houses that would be worth what they cost.

This contractor strongly advises veterans not to buy homes now, because, "I firmly believe that within the next three years every GI that bought a home now would owe more money for that home than he could possibly settle for. An editor writing of the peace conference in Paris says that the "great frustration" is that "the people have so little direct voice." This is an interesting complaint but if anyone has figured out a method by which the people can have a direct voice in the work of framing the peace treaties of Europe, we have never hard of it.

There are close to 140,000,000 people in the United States. They are unable to agree upon any political issue, debate economic issues with considerable impossible to agree upon the simplest tenets of religion. How can the voice of Americans become "direct" in Paris?

Atlanta. Taking advantage of an opportunity to thumb a ride to an opportunity to thumb a ride to Atlanta last week, I got my first glimpse of South Georgia and the Southeast's major city since the war. Traveling route 19 via Thomasville, Albany and Leesburg, we found these bustling communi-ties crowded and doing a land of-fice business. Excessive rains had hampered crown in some areas but fice business. Excessive rains had hampered crops in some areas but generally they have been good and farmers are prosperous. More new cars were in evidence and I was amazed at the number of jeeps we passed on the highway. Hundreds of them, released by the Army, have been purchased by ex-service men, but I understand that the Army Jeep is already obsolete and that no parts are being manu-factured forthem, and this is some-thing to think about if you plan to purchase one.

Arrived in Atlanta in time to witness the tragic 100-mile automobile race at Lakewood featurmobile race at Lakewood featur-ing all Indianapolis Speedway cars and drivers. The event attracted 40,000 people and was probably the most thrilling race meet ever staged in the South, but it ended in the tragic pile-up of seven cars and the death of two world famed drivers. The accident occured in the 97th lan.

Lakewood Park, where the race was held, is the site of the South-eastern Fair and it is truly one of the most beautiful exposition eastern Fair and it is truly one of the most beautiful exposition grounds in America with its spa-cious buildings, rolling hills, and beautiful lake. The 1946 Fair will be staged from September 27 through October 6 and, according to president Mike Benton, promises to top everything in the past. Mike tells me that Florida will be well represented with exhibits of cattle and poultry, including a display of Brahmans, in which South Geór-gia cattlemen are especially in-terested. With new agricultural and commercial equipment begin-ning to come on the market, deal-ers and distributors are arranging for comprehensive commercial ex-hibits and demonstrations. The show will be well worth seeing and if you are planning a trip to Atyou are planning a trip to At-inta better make it during the Most of the meat is black and bacon are very scarce and very costly. Most of the meat is black market and you have to know somebody who knows somebody if you want to keep a stock of these and many other items. Toilet paper is an under-the-counter commodity and harder to find than nylons. Paper of any kind is mighty scarce for that matter and

During my stay in Atlantaa I was the guest of my friend J. L. (Red) Edgerton, who used to travel Florida for the Western Newspaper Union. He now has a thriving printing business, specializing in high-class color work. izing in high-class color work. During the season he prints large quantities of literature for directmall shippers of Florida citrus fruits. While I was there Red closed a deal with the Dodson Printer's Supply Company for the immediate delivery of a Meible Verticle Press. That may not mean anything to you, dear readmean anything to you, dear read-er, but you'r newspaperman will tell you that it is something that ranks right along side of the Hope Diamond, if you happen to be in the printing business. I know a lot of Florida printers who would give their right eye and two dollars besides if they could get one.

Most everyone I met was in-terested in Florida and visit the state whenever they have the op-portunity. In conversation with a prominent travel bureau execu tive I asked him about the Georgia quarantine against Florida. He said he thought it was foolish and unnecessary but he brought another matter to my attention that, in his opinion, was doing Florida far more harm as far as tourist busi-ness was concerned, and that was the tendency of Miami landlords cafe and night-spot operators to high-jack and push around the winter visitor. He told of his own experience and that of others, who had made hotel reservations and sent check in advance for rooms and on arrival found they had no and on arrival touth they had no accomodations. The hotel returned their check having given their rooms to a higher bidder. They finally managed to get a room in a third-rate elimb-your-own stairs joint at $10,00 a night and share the both the bath

He predicted that the coming tourist season would prove disap-pointing and that those to follow would get worse, and said would get worse, and said the practice of sticking visitors in the Miami area was giving all of Flor-ida a black eye in the public mind and was tending to off-set any good that the advertising program of the State Advertising Commis n might be doing.

Stetson Kennedy, son of the South, where grandfather fought South, waere grandather fought for the Confederacy and whose ancestors pioneered the region/(two of whom signed the Declaration of Independence) has written a book "Southern Exposure" which purports to be the "Truth" about the "best-lied-about-region in 'Armerian'." America.

America.

If there is anything GOOD that might be said about the South, you won't find it in Kennedy's book which is patterned after Carlson's which is patterned after Carlson's "Undercover" and equally as blased. The three hundred odd pages of "Southern Exposure" is devoted to picturing the South as rotten to the core; steeped in ignorance, stinking with disease, lawless, intolerant and insane to the point that it has infected 'the entire nation.

Based in its entirety on half-truths and innuendos it attempts to so horrify the reader with tales of brutality, injustice, greed, avarice and hate as practiced by Southerners in their dealings with the Negro, the sharecropper, the laboring man and the underdog as reader, so naive as to swallow it whole as an accurate and authentic revelation of fact.

Reviewing the history and background of most any section of the country one could assemble a book country one could assemble a book equally as critical and damaging, if in doing so they went out of their way to ignore every decent, worth while, kindly and courage-ous act to a people and carefully confined the manuscript to a sor-did review of everything un-worthy and vile.

I do not contend that the wrongs, injustices and evils dealt with by Mr. Kennedy do not exist, nor do I attempt to condone or make light of them, but I do contend that it is unjust and unfair to condemn and malign a whole section or a whole malign a whole section or a whole people for the evil and unrighteous people for the evil and unrighteous actions of a few.

For every action of intolerance and abuse of the negros ovidy recounted in Mr. Kennedy's book I can produce ten of kindness, con-sideration and justice displayed by Southerners in their dealings with the negro.

In lauding the cause of organized labor and condemning employ-ers of the South for so-called unfair labor relations practices, Mr. Kennedy finds it convenient to completely overlook all of the evils practiced by labor and its leaders in their dealings with employers and their utter disregard of the public welfare.

Florida sharecropper got a taste Florida sharecropper got a taste of Union tyranny and injustice during the war when they left their farms and sought work in the cities. They were gouged for working permits, fees, dues and assessments and held their jobs, if they were lucky enough to get one after buying a "termit" to one after buying a "permit to work" at the mercy of a labor over-lord who could hire and fire them at will and did when such action enabled him to replace the action enabled him to replace the luckless chap with a newcomer and another "initiation fee."

I hold no briefs for the Talmadges, the Bilbos, the Rankins or the O'Daniels with their creeds of hate and intolerance and their asimine championship of "White Supremacy"—they are no credit to the South or to the Nation and by the same token I do not see epi-to-cye, no: do I soi-ribe to the fanatical and equally intolerant views of the Peppers, the Wali-same views of the Peppers views ant views of the Peppers, the Wal-

I recognize the fact that many industrial lealers rae guilt of the luman and unjust actions in their cealings with labor art that some are aided and abetted by law by are aided and abetted by law by law enforcement officers, but I have foun dthis to be the exception rather than the rule. I do not subscribe to the "New Deal" phillosophy that ALL employers are so-and-so's, and that all who work for wages are downtrodden and abused.

We have had too many speeches and too many books that violently portray one side or the other in connection with the cause of labor and management or with race and and management or with race and color. They add nothing to the so-lution of those problems but only serve to further widen the breach and inflame one group against another.

The South has no corner on self-ishness; greed, hate and intolerance. You find these ugly forces rising their evil heads wherever mankind abides or deliberates whether it be the Paris Conference whether it be the Paris Conference table, the directors room of a corporation or the Labor Temple. Books are written to sell and the smart author has learned that muck-raking, fifth and abuse are profitable ingredients when mised adroitly in a manuscript. Mr. Kennedy will in all probability make a lot of money from "Southern Exposure" at the expense of his native South, but he will have to live with himself and I am content that the authorship is his and not mise.

SCIENTIST

"EVERLASTING PUNISHMENT" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday,

The Golden Text is: "The Lord is known by the judgement which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands" (Psalms 9:16).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the fol-lowing from the Bible: "Cast away lowing from the Bible: "Cast away from you all your transgressions whereby ye have transgressions whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye ("Ezekiel 18:31 to: 32).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "In trying to undo the errors of sense one must pay fully and fairly sense one must pay fully and fairly the utmost farthing, until all error is finally brought into subjection to Truth. The divine method of paying sin's wages involvés unwinding one's snarls, and learning from experience how to divide between sense and Soul" (p. 240: 27-32).

LAST SEASON IT COST $540 TO GROW AN ACRE OF CELERY An Additional $500 an Acre Was Average Cost Cutting and Marketing

Many folks in the Lake Okee- Tractors To Russia chobee Region take one look at a beautiful celery, field and decide that celery growing is the quick way to get rich in this agricultural area. Some of the farmers have taken that envious look and wound up on the short end of the prover-bial horn after a season or two growing the luscious weed.

Celery, introduced to the Lake Region only a few short years ago, has provided a means for several big growers to "get in the money" rather quickly. But, that was be-fore the day of exorbitant grow-ing and harvesting costs. It is a different story completely today compared with what was happening in th celery deal three or four years ago. Facts and figures gath-ered from big and little growers on the Lake will bear out this statement.

To give the uninitiated an ideea of growing costs of the ever-popu-lar and crunchy plant, one of the area's most successful farmers pointed out that last season it cost $540.00 per acre to grow cel-ery. Close questioning by this reporter brought forth the statement that the $540 constituted only the actual growing costs, and did not, in any way, include any of the cost of preparing the weed for market. A close check on this showed that another $500 per acre was necessary to cut, prepare, crate, pre-cool and make ready for market the many handsome little packages that come from an acre.

One grower in a recent discussion said that last spring he spent $2.25 per crate to put his celery on the market and realized $1.75 for it. One can readily see, whether he is an expert accountant or not, that a grower can't make money on a deal like that. In many inon a deal like that. In many in-stances, however, celery prices were far above the $1.75 mark during the season. The above ref-erence was made to a certain 100 acres that happened to hit a low market.

Mearly 2,000 acres of celery have been set so far this season, according to H. L. Speer, assistant county agent. A. Duda and Sons, Belle Glade growers, are planning to cut some celery in about three weeks. Other growers in the Lake weeks. Two of the area's largest celery growers in the past—Van Landingham Brothers and T. W. Knight—are not growing any celery this year.

Friendship-Three Thousand Miles Apart

Ever play chess? It's a ever play chess? It's a great ame! One of the strongest friendships I know of started with a game of chess-between Dad Hoskins, in our town, and a man named Dalton Barnes, in England.

They've never seen each other, never met. But for the past eight years they've been playing chess by mail together — Dad puzzling over Dalton's latest letter, while he sends a chart of his next move to England.

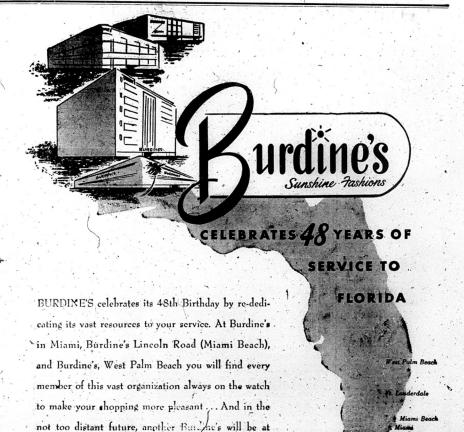

Pad always thinks best with a mallow glass of beer beside his chessboard. And the Englishman writes him that he does the same. "You know, it's almost as if we shared a glass of beer together, too!" says Dad contentedly.

From where I sit, you can talk about diplomacy and foreign policy, but it's often those little things—like a game of chess or a glass of beer—that can make for toler-ance and understanding . . . between people of all nations . tween neighbors here at home!

This will close Sunday November the 24th in time for the victors to be honored at the men and boys din-ner the 25th.

This Sunday the teacher Rev. C. A. Moberg will discuss the lesson "The flesh versus the spirit." This subject is on the heart of the believer as much, perhaps, as any other because of the in-ability to live the perfect life. Can a Christian sin? Is the sinning Christian a hyprocrite? Is the Christian tempted? Does he yield at times? These and other pertinent questions will be answered. The class quartet will present its usual splendid program.
